FINE PRIVATE RESIDENCES FIND PURCHASERS.

Jacob A. Cantor Buys in West Seventieth street . W. E. Benjamin in East Seventyeighth and Dr. Janeway in West Fortyeighth and Dr. Janeway in West Forty-eighth—Big Deal in Dyckman Lots. Horace S. Ely & Co.

During the latter half of last month sales of private houses constituted the the season for dealing in private residences generally closes about May 1. Uptown brokers say, however, that they have enough unfilled orders for dwellings on hand to keep them busy for another fortnight. The trading reported from the midtown district yesterday seems to support this statement. With the exception of a big deal in Dyckman lots, sales of private houses made up the most substantial part of the day's brokerage business. Among the buyers whose names were mentioned were Jacob A. Cantor, Dr. Edward G. Janeway, William Evaret Benjamin. Seth B. Robinson and Charles A.

Most of the houses purchased this year by people intending to live in them have been east of Fifth and Madison avenues, between Fiftieth and Eightieth streets. Many purchases have been made as far east as Lexavenue. There has been an unmistakable tendency on the part of the fashionable residence colony to expand beyond Madison and Park avenues. The territory west of Fifth avenue is rapidly being onverted to business uses, and, while ship this spring, the buyers have in most instances been speculative operators or cantile concerns. The West Side has been more popular with purchasers of priever, the buying has not reached what local brokers regard as normal proportions.

The new real estate salesroom, at 14 and 16 Vesey street, was formally opened yesterday. James L. We is, president of the Auctioneers' Association, announced that the room has been designated by the Supreme Court as the place for sales of realty held under decree of any court in the county of New York. Only one sale, a foreclosure sale of a lot in Harlem, was held yesterday.
